Think Ahead

Study an international Master's with ACCA

If you're looking for an exciting, rewarding career that could take you all over the world, studying accounting or finance abroad could be a great place to start.

When you combine academic studies with the world-leading ACCA Qualification, you gain a potent blend of skills and experience that makes you instantly attractive to employers.

ACCA has partnered with BPP University to give you the opportunity to take ACCA exams while you study for your Master's. You'll work towards two qualifications at the same time. And by the time you graduate, you could be well on your way to becoming an ACCA member.

Why study for the ACCA Qualification alongside your Master's?

You'll get all the experiences that come from studying in another country – a fresh perspective, the opportunity to learn or practise other languages and opportunities to build a diverse network. And of course, you can gain both a professional qualification and an academic one.

When you take this fast route to ACCA membership, you can:

Go anywhere, do anything

Whatever your passion is, ACCA's flexible qualification will help you get there. And because it's recognised all over the world, you can work internationally.

Stand out to the best employers

The ACCA Qualification gives you the technical, professional and ethical skills and experience employers everywhere are looking for.

Accelerate your career

Studying for the ACCA Qualification and a Master's simultaneously means the moment you graduate, you'll be ready to start your career.

Be part of something big

When you join ACCA, you become part of a global network of students and members who'll be there to support you throughout your career.

Study for the MSc Accounting and Finance

BPP University's MSc Accounting and Finance is the first course of its kind, designed to combat an impending digital skills gap in the sector. This innovative new route provides students with skills employers are seeking.

How does it fit into the ACCA journey?

If you've already passed – or have exemptions for – the first nine ACCA exams, you can take your ACCA Strategic Professional exams during the Master's. When you graduate, you'll just have to take the Ethics and Professional Skills module and fulfil the practical experience requirement and then you'll become a fully-qualified ACCA member.

What will you study?

In addition to the modules you will study in preparation for your Strategic Professional Exams, you will study three new modules designed to boost your employability: Digital Leadership, Principles of Data Science and a Business Project, developed in collaboration with leading employers.

Graduates will be able to add value to the workplace from day one, by understanding how new technologies will change their industry and possessing the analytical, critical thinking and leadership skills developed through the unique combination of this Master's and ACCA's Strategic Professional Level, to implement change.
