Another proud recipient of the Approved Employer certificate: Ms Maggie Kwa receives the award from Mr Stephen Heathcote

Key Employers Sign up for ACCA Approved Employer Programme

PowerSeraya Limited, one of Singapore's top energy suppliers, was recently awarded Approved Employer for Professional Development status. Presenting Ms Jessica Lim, PowerSeraya's HR Manager, with their certificate was Ms Claudia Riley of ACCA's Business Partnerships team who was in Singapore recently.

The Professional Development status was awarded to PowerSeraya Limited in recognition of the support it provides to ACCA members in their professional learning and development. At 370 strong, PowerSeraya firmly believes that a company's biggest and most important asset is its people and being awarded accreditation by ACCA is an endorsement of the company's learning & development programmes.

Joining PowerSeraya as an Approved Employer for Professional Development is public accounting firm Ernst & Young. The firm currently employs over 1,500 people in Singapore. Receiving the certificate from Mr Stephen Heathcote was Ms Maggie Kwa from Ernst & Young's human resources division.

Ms Jacinta Pierre, HR manager with Ernst & Young, said: 'It was important for the firm to be awarded Professional Development status as it is a direct reflection of the importance the firm places on the learning and development of all its employees, including those that are ACCA qualified.'

Working in partnership with over 7,500 employers worldwide, ACCA supports organisations in developing and implementing effective training programmes. ACCA approved employers also have access to a range of services such as recruitment and training consultancy, which adds value to the organisations by upholding a high international standard of their employees.
